ICORD VI - VI International Congress on Operational Research for Development.

Brasil de 14 de junho a 16 de julho

The first conference in the series (ICORD-I) was organized at Ahmedabad, India, December 14-16, 1992. The conference series was initiated with a conviction that Operational Research (OR) can make significant contributions to the process of development in general and developing countries in particular.

The Conference of Fortaleza will provide a forum for discussion and exchange of ideas among researchers, academics and practitioners either involved directly or with an interest in OR for Development. The Conference will make it a priority to facilitate attendance by participants from less developed countries. The aim will be to generate in-depth discussion among representatives of both the developing and developed worlds.

ICORD VI is being sponsored by the Brazilian OR Society, SOBRAPO and the International Federation of OR Societies, IFORS. More details can be found in www.sobrapo.org.br/ICORD_VI/index.htm. The plenary talk should be in one of the areas of Operational Research for Development issues such as Health Care, Education, Agriculture, Communications, Public Services, Energy, among others. In your specific case, may I suggest a talk on the state of Operational Research in Cuba: history, important developments, current projects, socio-economic impacts of applications of OR in Cuba. Additionally you may be asked to participate in one of the panels.
